George is a leading energy transactions lawyer with more than two decades of experience advising clients on private M&A, joint ventures, and project development across Canada’s energy sector. He is widely recognized for his counsel on complex commercial arrangements, asset acquisitions and divestitures, and infrastructure development.

George represents upstream producers, midstream operators, project developers and energy investors in structuring and negotiating transactions across the energy sector value chain, including conventional and unconventional oil and gas development, midstream and downstream facilities, LNG, carbon capture, energy transition, renewables and emerging energy technologies. His work spans the full lifecycle of energy projects — from early-stage development and permitting to construction, financing and exit.

George is recognized in a variety of respected ranking publications, including by Chambers Canada in the area of Energy, Oil and Gas (Transactional). He was also recognized by Best Lawyers as “Lawyer of the Year” (2022), as one of Canada’s leading lawyers in the areas of energy law and oil and gas law.
