Jack is cross-appointed to the Insolvency & Restructuring and the Disputes Departments. His practice involves corporate and commercial litigation, with a particular focus and expertise on restructuring and insolvency matters.

Jack has represented debtors, creditors and appointed court officers in restructuring and insolvency matters before the courts. He has also participated in major contractual, administrative, and shareholder disputes before the provincial and federal courts. Jack is admitted to practice in both Québec and Ontario.

Jack holds a Licentiate in Laws from the University of Ottawa, graduating Summa Cum Laude. He has published written work on commercial, constitutional and public law matters in addition to having spoken at a national insolvency and restructuring conference.

During his studies Jack served as a student law clerk to the Honourable Justice Claude Dallaire of the Quebec Superior Court, completed a legal internship at a major transportation company, and acted as a research assistant. He was also a silver medalist at the Laskin Moot Court Competition in the Factums category. Prior to joining Osler, Jack worked for a boutique law firm specializing in litigation.
